

Bilateral Electronic Console

Model IC-04

- It allows instant communication between the console and the remote stations.
- Its main advantage lies in the simplicity of the operation.
- It has a complete signalling system to identify the call's origin at all times. Two-colour LEDs indicate the status of the call: ongoing or waiting to be answered.
It has an acoustic system that complements a light signal in case the
- operator is not near the console.
Made of a fine-finished metal cabinet with buttons for intensive use
- that make the INTERCRON CONSOLE an extremely reliable element.

Optionals:

- The system allows the installation of another console in parallel or independently.
- General call to all the remotes.
